WHAT? Learn everything you need to know to comply with the EPA Renovation, Repair and Painting (RRP) Rule regarding lead paint. In one day get information from a contractor-instructor who knows what it is like to be in your shoes. Upon successful completion of this class, you will be issued an EPA Certified Renovator Certification. Federal law also requires you to apply and pay for an EPA Lead Safe License ($300) to complete the process.

WHY? SAVE money! The in-person 8 hour RRP certification class is offered in Augusta, Portland, Bangor and Westbrook (see <https://www.maine.gov/dep/waste/training/trainingcal.html> for dates) and costs between $225—$300. The license comes from the EPA and costs $300. Both are good for 5 years. Once you obtain your license and send a copy to patriciab@hccame.org, you will be reimbursed $200 through this scholarship program.
